Assigning Fiction Genre Designations

Fiction genre classification is free, which includes assigning fiction genre classifications in the MARC record subject headings and as part of the call number. Additional labels are 20¢-30¢ per item. To save time for our customers, the professional staff at Mackin have assigned a standard genre classification to thousands of popular fiction titles. These classifications can be found on our website. If Mackin's standard genre classification is selected below, it is not necessary to assign a genre for each fiction title. If genre classifications need to differ from Mackin's standard genre, choose one of the options below that references customer-assigned genres.

Specify how fiction genre classifications should be assigned by selecting one of the options below:

- Use Mackin's standard fiction genre classifications exclusively (as displayed on www.mackin.com)
Note: Many (but not all) fiction titles have a genre assigned on Mackin's website. If a genre is not assigned, or if any of Mackin's standard fiction genre classifications are not selected on page 2, these titles will be cataloged with customer's fiction call number.
- Use Mackin's standard fiction genre classifications (as displayed on www.mackin.com), but also follow customer-assigned genre classifications*
 - All fiction titles must have a genre assigned (customer will assign a genre when necessary)
- Use customer-assigned genres only (do not use Mackin's standard fiction genre classifications)*

*Customers can assign fiction genre classifications on titles by submitting entire lists indicating all titles use one fiction genre or by noting the desired fiction genre classifications on individual titles using the "notes" field.

Additional Instructions (Optional: Indicate cataloging or processing needs not included on this form.)

Fiction Genre Wording & Label Options

Fiction genre as part of the call number and/or in the MARC records is free. Additional labels are 20¢-30¢ per item. Select one or more desired options below. When selecting options, consider whether genre titles will be interfiled with fiction or shelved together (separately from fiction). Use the table to indicate the applicable wording and/or label protectors needed.

Free Options

- Option 1: Fiction genre classification added as part of call number on spine labels and in MARC records. This option allows titles of the same genre to be shelved together, ensuring patrons can easily find favorite genres. See page 3 to specify how genre classification is applied to call number.
 - Classification displays in MARC records only (does not print on spine labels).
- Option 2: Fiction genre classification added in Destiny location field in MARC records. This option allows Destiny patrons to see at a glance in the online catalog where titles are located in the library; useful if genre classifications are not added as part of the call number & each genre is shelved separately.

30¢ Option

- Option 3: Colored protectors applied on spine labels to denote genre classification. Using colored protectors to denote genre classification allows patrons to easily find genres throughout the library without having to search in the online catalog. Mackin offers the following colors: aqua, blue, copper, fluorescent green, fluorescent pink, gray, green, light blue, light green, light purple, orange, pink, purple, red, tan, and yellow.
