Did you know that there are waves moving all around us? These waves are different than those you see at the beach! The waves moving all around us are called sound waves. You cannot see these waves but they are there.

Waves around us

Sound waves move through air like waves in water.